"Beyond the Story: Why Are Your Clothes So Cheap?"

1. What is the mood of the video during the section about the Tazreen factory and Rana Plaza building disasters (0:46-1:46)? Consider the narration, music, and visuals.
2. Footage of garment workers is shown alongside footage of American shoppers (2:16-2:26). What is the likely intended effect of doing this? Explain.
3. Narrator Kristin Lewis says that "we have the power to do something" about the problems facing garment workers around the world (5:20). How does the video support this statement?
4. One central idea of the video is that our cheap clothes have, as Lewis states at 0:40, a "high human cost." Describe this cost in your own words, using examples from the video.
